

5th African Conference on Emerging Infectious Diseases & Biosecurity

— 7th - 9th August 2019 —

Theme

Climate Change and Conflict: Implications for Emerging Infectious Diseases and Biosecurity in Africa

Location

Abuja Nigeria

Venue

Sheraton Hotel,
Ladi Kwali

Info and contact

getafrica.org

bobadoyed@getafrica.org

+2348067699338

(Whatsapp too)

Twitter

@GETConsortium

Call for Abstracts

bit.ly/2D30n7u

(deadline 30th of May)

Thematic areas:

1. Biobanking, Biosafety, Biosecurity, Biodata and Bioinformatics
2. Climate Change, Environment and Health
3. Ethics and Anthropology
4. Emerging Infectious Diseases
5. Vaccines

Objectives

1. Discuss and debate the impact of changing climate on EID and Biosecurity in Africa
2. Discuss the rising insecurity and the influence of non-state actors on biosecurity in Africa
3. Identify regional and international opportunities for collaboration in EID and Biosecurity research.
4. Present latest breaking updates on Ebola and other (re)emerging infectious diseases.

In attendance

Nicki Tiffins,
University of Cape Town

Nicholas Ozor,
Executive Director,
African Technology Policy
Studies Network (ATPS)

Michaela Th. Mayhofer,
Chief Policy Officer CS
ELSI /
Chief Coordinator
Officer BBMRI-ERIC

Akin Abayomi,
Principal
Investigator GET

Alan Christoffels,
University of the Western Cape

Mouhamadou B. Sylla,
West African Science
Service Center on Climate Change and
Adapted Land Use